

A

a: interj.; ah a, ab, abs: prep. w. abla.; by, from Áaron -ónis, or indecl.: m.; Aaron, brother of Moses ábacus -i: m.; small table for cruets, credence, shelf in wall near altar abaliéno -áre: (1); alienate, go away, depart, separate, remove, legally transfer abámíta -ae: f.; female ancestor, sister (of the following word) ábavus -i: m.; great-great-grandfather, ancestor, forefather

Ábba: indecl.; Aramaic; Father ábbas -abbátis: m.; abbot; see Appendix abbátia -ae: f.; abbey, abbacy abbatiális -is -e: pertaining to an abbot or abbey abbátia nullíus: abbey exempt from ecclesiastical jurisdiction abbatíssa -ae: f.; abbess abbreviátor -óris: m.; one who makes abstracts from papal bulls abbrévio -áre: (1); shorten, cut off, abbreviate Abdías -ae: m.; Obadiah, a minor prophet; a book of the O.T. abdicátio -ónis: f.; a renouncing, disowning ábdico -áre: (1); renounce, abandon, give up abdíco -ere -dixi -dictum: (3); disapprove of ábdítum -i: n.; hidden place, lair, secret ábdítus -a -um: concealed, hidden ábdó -ere -didi -ditum: (3); hide, conceal, secrete abdúco -ere -dúxi -dúctum: (3); lead away, carry away, seduce abecedárium -ii: n.; the alphabet abecetuórium -ii: n.; the act of tracing Greek and Latin alphabets on the floor while consecrating a church

Ábel: -élis, or indecl., Abélus -i: m.; Abel ábeo -íre -ívi -ítum: (4); go away aberrátio -ónis: f.; relief from anything irksome, diversion abérro -áre: (1); go astray, wander ab extrínseco: from the outside, externally ab hómíne: by or from a man; ecclesiastical penalty inflicted by a judge abhórreo -horrére -hórrui: (2); shrink back or away from

Abías -ae: m.; Abia abíció: see abjicio abiégnus -a -um: of fir ábíens -eúntis: pres. part. of ábeo ábies -etis: f.; fir tree abietárius -ii: m.; carpenter ábigo -ere -égi -áctum: (3); banish, drive away ab inítio: from the beginning ab intrínseco: from the inside, internally ab ipso (ípsa) convénto(-ta): see Appendix

Ábiron: indecl.; Abiram, a conspirator against Moses and Aaron ábitus -us: m.; departure abjécte: cowardly abjéctio -ónis: f.; outcast; casting out abjicio (abíció) -ere -jéci -jéctum: (3); refuse, throw away, cast off, debase, degrade, abandon abjúdico -áre: (1); take away by judgment, deny an oath abjúngo -ere -júnxi -júntum: (3); unlock, unloose abjurátio -ónis: f.; abjuration, foreswearing, denial under oath, perjury; see Appendix abjúro -áre: (1); deny an oath, perjure ablácto -áre: (1); wean ablátor -óris: m.; one who takes away ablátus -a -um: perf. pass. part. of aúfero ablegátio -ónis: f.; a sending away ablégo -áre: (1); send off or away, remove ábluo -ere -lui -lútum: (3); wash, cleanse ablútio -ónis: f.; washing, ablution, pouring on, mixture of water and wine in the liturgy abnegátio -ónis: f.; denial abnegatívus -a -um: negative abnegátor -óris: m.; a denier ábnego -áre: (1); deny, refuse, be unwilling abnórmi -is -e: unconventional, abnormal, irregular ábnuo -ere -ui -úitum: (3); deny, refuse by nod of the head, reject abnúto -áre: (1); deny repeatedly, refuse often by nod of the head abóleo -ére -évi -itum: (2); destroy, abolish, terminate abolésco -ere -évi: (3); decay little by little, vanish, cease abolítio -ónis: f.; a removing, abolition, annulling, withdrawal abólla -ae: f.; thick woolen cloak abominábilis -is -e: detestable, hateful, worthy of destruction abominátio -ónis: f.; detestation, aversion, loathing abóminor -ári: dep. (1); abhor, hate, detest, loath abórior -íri -órtus: dep. (4); disappear, pass away, set, miscarry, fail abortívus -a -um: untimely, prematurely born, abortive abórtus -us: m., abortívum -i: n.; abortion, miscarriage ábra -ae: f.; maid abrádo -rádere -rási -rásum: (3); rub off, take away, erase Abrahámus -i, indecl. in the Psalms: m.; Abraham abrenunciátio -ónis: f.; repudiation, renouncing abrenúntio -áre: (1); renounce abrípio -ere -rípuí -réptum: (3); drag or tear away abrogátio -ónis: f.; revocation, formal repeal; see Appendix ábrogó -áre: (1); revoke, abrogate, annul abrúmpo -ere -rúpi -rúptum: (3); loosen, separate, break abruptio -ónis: f.; a tearing away, a rending asunder, a divorce abruptus -a -um: steep, precipitous, broken off from, separated abs: prep. w. abla.; by, from Ábsalom: indecl.; Absalom, son of David and Maacah abscédo -ere -cési -císsum: (3); retire, depart abscéssio -ónis: f.; separation, a going away abscéssus -us: m.; death abscído -ere -cídí -císsum: (3); cut off abscíndo -ere -cídí -scíssum: (3); tear away, cut off abscónditum -i: n.; a hidden place or thing; in abscóndito: in secret abscónditus -a -um: hidden, concealed, secret, unknown, obscure, out of sight; abscóndite: adv. abscóndo -ere -dídí -ditum: (3); hide, conceal abscónsio -ónis: f.; a shelter abscónsus -a -um: hidden, secret, concealed, unknown absens -éntis: absent; pres. part. of ábsum abséntia -ae: f.; absence absida -ae: f.; apse, apsis absidátus -a -um: vaulted, arched absidiále -is: n., absidióla -ae: f.; a smaller apse flanking a larger one absilio -íre: (4); leap up, jump up; fly away absímilis -is -e: unlike, dissimilar absínthium -ii: n., absínthius -ii: m.; see absýnthium ábsis -ídis: f.; apse absisto -ere -stiti: (3); be exiled, cease, depart, withdraw ábsit: God forbid, far be it absolútio -ónis: f.; absolution, forgiveness, sacramental remission of sin; see Appendix absolutórius -a -um: of or relating to absolution or acquittal absolútus -a -um: perfect, complete, absolute; absolúte: adv. absólvo -ere -sólvi -solútum: (3); absolve, pardon, release, forgive absónus -a -um: unsuitable, incongruous; discordant absórbeo -ére -ui -órptum: (2); swallow, gulp, absorb ábsque: prep. w. abla.; without, apart from abstémius -a -um: temperate, abstemious, abstaining abstérgeo -ére -térsi -térsu: (2); blot out, wipe away abstérreo -ére: (2); frighten away, deter, remove ábstinens -éntis: temperate, abstinent abstinéntia -ae: f.; abstinence, moderation, not eating certain foods abstíneo -ére -ui -téntum: (2); abstain, hold back, refrain abstráctio -ónis: f.; detachment, removal abstraho -ere -tráxi -tráctum: (3); bring forth, drag or draw away abstrúdo -ere -úsi -úsum: (3); hide, conceal ábsum -esse, áfui, afutúrum: be absent, be away absúmo -ere -súmpsi -súmu: (3); take away, lessen, destroy; consume absúrde: absurdly, irrationally, discordantly absúrditas -átis: f.; incongruity, absurdity absýnthium -ii: n.; wormwood, absynth Ábula -ae: f.; Avila abúndans -ántis: rich, abundant, overflowing, abounding in, copious; abundánte, abúnde: adv.; abundántius: comp. adv.

abundántia -ae: f.; abundance, plenty, prosperity, richness abúndo -áre: (1); abound, overflow, be rich, have abundance of abúsio -ónis: f.; scorn, contempt abúsor -óris: m.; abuser abúsus -us: m.; wasting, using up, consuming, abuse, misuse abútor -úti -úsum: dep. (3); abuse, misuse, destroy abýssus -i: f.; abyss, the depths, the sea; place of the dead a capélla: in chapel style, without musical accompaniment ac: and, as académia -ae: f.; academy, college académicus -a -um: academic Accaronítae -árum: m. pl.; people of Accaron or Ekron acathólicus -a -um: non-Catholic; acathólice: adv.
accédit -ere: (3); impers.; it is added accédo -ere -cési -césu: (3); approach, come near, accede, approve, assent to accelerátio -ónis: f.; hastening accélero -áre: (1); hurry, hasten